Students are bound by the catalog in effect at the time they entered Canisius, unless they have taken a leave of absence and “reset” their catalog. If the curriculum of a program has changed, students may submit a request to the department chair or program director to follow the new curriculum. Students may check with their advisor or with their Assistant or Associate Dean to verify their catalog year. The catalog page of the website (https://www.canisius.edu/academics/academic-catalog) contains links to prior catalogs for students, faculty, and staff who need to refer to the catalog for a student’s year of matriculation.
