MIDDLE CHILDHOOD EXTENSION

Curriculum
Students enrolled or certified in childhood education or adolescence education may obtain an extension to teach in the middle childhood grades.

Childhood teacher candidates seeking middle school extension
Students in childhood education who also hold a bachelor’s degree, or the equivalent study of 30 credit hours in one of the adolescence content areas, may obtain an extension to teach grades 7-9 by taking the two courses below. Students seeking the upward extension for grades 7-9 will be required to pass the CST Exam in their content area, in addition to the CST for childhood education. Students interested in this option are encouraged to consult with admissions to verify completion of the appropriate credit hours in content areas.

Adolescence teacher candidates seeking middle school extension
Students in adolescence education must complete the two courses listed below to extend their 7-12 certification to include grades 5-6.
