Department Chair: Lorreine (Lorrei) DiCamillo, Ed.D.

Program Director: Jeffrey R. Lindauer, Ph.D.

Canisius University's graduate advanced certificate in health is approved by the New York State Education Department (NYSED) and includes four graduate-level online courses. This certificate is designed to provide advanced education for those looking to gain more health knowledge and may provide additional health content credits to pursue an additional NYS certificate in Health Education. This program does not lead to NYS health certification. Candidates already certified in a subject area need to apply for an additional certificate through NYS TEACH.
