This course may be used for the American history requirement for the history major or minor.
Offered: occasionally.

HIS 401 Historical Methodology 3 Credits
Methods of historical research and criticism, including consideration of basic bibliographical and reference works, note-taking, and evaluation of sources. Research paper required.
Prerequisite: HIS 299
Restriction: history honors students and others with permission of chair.
Offered: spring.

HIS 405 History Seminar: US National Security 3 Credits
US foreign relations, military history and intelligence.
Prerequisites: HIS 299 or HIS 401
Offered: occasionally.

HIS 406 History Seminar: Soccer in Global History 3 Credits
History of soccer in a global perspective.
Prerequisites: HIS 299 or HIS 401
Offered: occasionally.

HIS 407 History Seminar: Nazi Germany and the Jim Crow South 3 Credits
This seminar will explore the similarities and differences in racial theory and practice as it developed in Germany and the United States in the late nineteenth and twentieth centuries. Using the tools of the historian and with attention to the specifics of time and place, we will analyze how racism in Nazi Germany and the Jim Crow South challenged each nation. How racial politics and the use of mass media, the economy, and terror evolved in each historical context provides the central question. The responses to persecution both at home and abroad -- sometimes from the same voices -- provide a strong counterpoint to the racial violence that plagued the two societies.
Prerequisite: HIS 299 or HIS 401.
Offered: occasionally.

HIS 408 History Seminar: Social Movements through Song 3 Credits
Social Movements in US history as represented through music.
Offered: occasionally.

HIS 409 History Seminar: Race in Early America 3 Credits
The issue of race in America from the early explorations to the 19th century.
Offered: occasionally.

HIS 410 Revolution and Violence in Russian History 3 Credits
This course examines key moments in Russian and Soviet history in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries. Students will be exposed to the major historical debates surrounding the Russian revolutionary movement, anti-Semitism, violence, the Russian Civil War, Collectivization, the Stalinist Terror and Gulag, WWII, issues pertaining to the Cold War, and other major events. The course will be centered around discussions of articles and books chosen to provide differing viewpoints on the topics listed above. Open to juniors and seniors only.
Offered: occasionally.

HIS 411 History Honors Thesis 3 Credits
Research and writing of a thesis to satisfy requirements for graduation with Honors in History.
Prerequisite: permission of the instructor and/or the chair.
Fulfills College Core: Advanced Writing-Intensive
Offered: fall.
HIS 414 Black Lives Matter 3 Credits
Ever since Africans were brought to North America in chains, they have protested their enslavement and, once freed 250 years later, protested racial oppression in order to claim their identity as unique, equal, and empowered members of American society. This new Core Capstone course will consider the plight of African Americans in different historical periods, two seemingly antithetical objectives of black protest (assimilation and nationalism), and different methods to improve their lot. Behind leaders, such as Henry Highland Garnet, Frederick Douglass, Ida B. Wells, W.E.B. Du Bois, Marcus Garvey, Jo Ann Gibson Robinson, Martin Luther King, Jr., James Farmer, Malcolm X, and Alicia Garza, African Americans have pressed for fundamental human rights. Their methods of protest have included petitions, speeches, conventions, editorials, boycotts, marches, demonstrations, riots, lobbying, and social media. Throughout the course, we will consider the actions of the Black Lives Matter movement that emerged in the wake of Trayvon Martin’s killing by a self-appointed vigilante.
Fulfills College Core: Core Capstone
Offered: Occasional.

HIS 420 Food in Time and Place: Culture, Society, Power, and Politics 3 Credits
Topics will include the influence of the “Columbian Exchange,” the effects of industrialization, the impact of famine and food shortages, the development of nutritional science and dietary reform movements, and the recent emergence of both global and locavore “foodie cultures.” By investigating how food supplies, food policies, and even individual diets have changed over time, we will examine relationships of power and class, the impact of trade and technology, and the process of economic and cultural globalization. The course will focus primarily on developments in Europe and the Americas, but discussion of trade and globalization will lead us to consider non-western traditions as well. As an upper-level seminar, this course is designed to introduce students to literature in the growing field of food history, and also to the nature of historical research. Consequently, Students will explore the topic through a variety of primary and secondary readings as well as images and (sometimes edible) artifacts, and will engage in their own research projects. Seminars normally open to seniors and juniors.
Prerequisite: HIS 299.
Offered: occasionally.

HIS 421 Nature and the Arts of Angling, Restoration, and Contemplation 3 Credits
As an exercise in the genre of cultural history, this course is an introduction to the history, literary and cultural significance, and practice of fly fishing in America, as well as around the world. Students will also examine the religious themes and the ‘spiritualization’ often attached to fly fishing, which have been expressed in some of the most loved writings in the English language. This course may be used for the American history requirement for the history major or minor.
Fulfills College Core: Core Capstone
Offered: once a year.

HIS 440 History Seminar: 20th century Genocide and Human Rights 3 Credits
Focuses on world genocides in the 20th century.
Prerequisites: HIS 299 or HIS 401
Offered: occasionally.

HIS 450 America and the Holocaust 3 Credits
Explores the response of the United States to the Holocaust, the systematic extermination of an estimated ten to twelve million people, of whom six million were Jews, during World War II. It examines the implications of the American response to the Holocaust for the inequities and prejudices that remained at the core of American life in the mid-twentieth century. This course may be used for the American history requirement for the history major or minor.
Fulfills College Core: Core Capstone
Offered: occasionally.

HIS 460 The Life and Times of Theodore Roosevelt 3 Credits
Arguably, Theodore Roosevelt ranks among the most widely quoted American presidents. His daughter Alice once remarked: “My father always wanted to be the corpse at every funeral, the bride at every wedding and the baby at every christening.” This capstone will evaluate the trials and tribulations that TR faced during four decades of public service and his legacy to the modern world. As Roosevelt famously said in 1910 “ It is not the critic who counts; not the man who points out how the strong man stumbles, or where the doer of deeds could have done them better. The credit belongs to the man who is actually in the arena ... who at the worst, if he fails, at least fails while daring greatly, so that his place shall never be with those cold and timid souls who neither know victory nor defeat.” This course may be used for the American history requirement for the history major or minor.
Fulfills College Core: Core Capstone
Offered: once a year.

HIS 470 American Women in History and Literature 3 Credits
From devilish corsets to the Devil wearing Prada, from separate spheres to glass ceilings, and from Settlement House Cookbooks to Julia Child, American women have had myriad experiences over the past centuries. This course will explore women’s lives from various perspectives using the rich literature written by women of various backgrounds. Sources include fiction and non-fiction and include memoir, autobiography, political speeches, novels, shorts stories, and musical lyrics. Much of the literature reflects on how women have defined and redefined themselves as citizens and as individuals. This course may be used for the American history requirement for the history major or minor.
Fulfills College Core: Core Capstone
Offered: occasionally.

HIS 478 Representations of the Holocaust in Film, Literature, Art and Music 3 Credits
For many historians, the defining moment of the twentieth century is the Holocaust -- the systematic and deliberate extermination of an estimated ten to twelve million people, of whom six millions were Jews. This course explores representations of the Holocaust in literature and film since the end of World War II. This course may be used for the European history requirement for the history major or minor. Students cannot take this course if they have taken HIS 387.
Fulfills College Core: Core Capstone

HIS 498 Internship 3 Credits
